THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

FORTY-NINTH YEAR. NUMBER 245 — CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1932 — THREE CENTS

Did you Know

By Pat J. Kirwin.

THAT the Whigs exerted strong influence in politics in Circleville and Pickaway-co 80 years ago. At this time the organization elected an entire township and corporation ticket. Interesting were the attacks made back and forth by the two newspapers of the time, The Circleville Herald, which supported the Whigs and The Circleville Watchman, an out and out Democratic paper. An amusing editorial boosting the Whigs' cause, appearing in The Herald of April 18, 1850, in part, follows:

"The Whigs have elected the entire township and corporation ticket, time after time and can do it again! All we want is spunk! We have a wary, artful opponent to contend with. His mode of warfare does not consist so much in strength or numbers as it does in tactics. His manner of engagement is not to attack on the open field, in daylight, but to lie in ambush, to sneak, coax, biggle and chaffer with his 'game' until a sneakish charm is thrown around it, and then should he be successful, he mounts his roost and crows after this fashion:—'The entire Democratic ticket elected! Hold him, old rooster!'—Never fear, I've got him! Whiggery's usual weapons, falsehood, cunningness and knavery were exerted to their utmost but it wouldn't do! etc. * * *"

Jonathan Renick, Jacob Taylor, Alfred Luddington, Acker King and John Boyer represented the Whig committee to promote a thorough organization of the party forces in the county. The candidates at the election in 1850, at which the Whigs scored a complete victory were: Whigs, Mayor Z. L. Martin; Councilmen, R. H. Wilson, F. Robinson, T. C. Jones and J. Boyer; Democrats, Mayor C. M. Foresman; Councilmen, William Doan, George Hammil, A. G. Richwine and Wayne Griswold.

The voting places were located in Geo. Hammil's shop; Jonathan Renick's office; John Hedges' cabinet shop and Dr. Blake's office.

And more amusing editorial comment from the columns of The Herald after the Whig victory:

"The noble-hearted Whigs of Circleville most faithfully did their duty on Monday last. That same old sick chicken never put forth greater exertions to defeat us than they did on that occasion. Our opponents were sure of success. They boasted of having every voter's name down and advertised their majority in each ward. The Whigs are not dead yet!"

THAT the yearly expenditures of the city of Circleville 80 years ago amounted to $3,619.92. The receipts collected in corporation taxes, and from market and weigh-masters' fees totaled $3,789.78. A balance was left in the treasury at the end of the year 1849. For the same year the expenditures of the county amounted to $15,832.10 and these, too, were well taken care of with receipts collected totaling $19,853.89.

That the names of three Ohio counties were derived as follows:

UNION-co, 1820 — Named because it was formed by the union of parts of four counties.

PORTAGE-co, 1807—Named for the old Indian portage or carrying path in this section.

SUMMIT-co, 1840—Named because here was located the highest land along the Ohio canal.

That in the early history of the county this section was inhabited by wolves. A reward for the killing of these animals was given by the county commissioners. Four dollars was paid for each six-months' old wolf killed and $2 was paid for those killed under the above age.

COL. COLE, LEGION LEADER, DIES OF INJURIES IN HOSPITAL

Commander of Ohio Department Passes Away Quietly With Family at Bedside; Fractured Neck Causes Death; Was Co-Founder of National Organization

WARREN, Oct. 15.—Colonel Ralph Dayton Cole, 57, of Findlay, commander of the Ohio department of the American Legion and one of the 20 founders of the Legion at its Paris caucus, was dead here today, a victim of a traffic accident.

Death was caused by a broken neck, which he suffered early last Tuesday when the automobile in which he was riding overturned on a road near Parkman, O. Although completely paralyzed from the shoulders down, he remained conscious almost to the end.

At first believed to have been only slightly injured, Colonel Cole, a former Ohio Congressman, later was found in an X-ray examination to have sustained fractured vertebrae in the region of the neck. He hovered between life and death since the accident.

COL. RALPH D. COLE.

FAMILY AT SIDE

At his bedside when he died were his wife and son, Ralph D. Cole Jr., and a group of close friends.

Colonel Cole was elected head of the Ohio department of the legion at its Toledo convention, held last August; prior to his election, and since, he had been actively engaged in Legion work, and had just presided at the installation of new officers at the Warren post a few hours before the fatal accident.

A delegation of Legion members visited his hospital room yesterday. Scores of messages and inquiries, mostly from Ohio Legion posts comprised of 70,000 members, were received at the hospital during his four-day illness.

BORN IN HANCOCK-CO

Colonel Cole was born in Vanlue, Hancock-co. He become a deputy clerk of the Hancock-co courts in 1897 as his first political office. He was elected to the Ohio General Assembly at the age of 26, and in 1904 started serving three consecutive terms in congress as a representative from the eighth Ohio district.

Serving as a legal counsel to the comptroller of currency in the Taft administration, Colonel Cole later was a director of the Republican party speaker's bureau for several campaigns.

In the World War he served as a major and later was promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel of the 37th division. While in Paris, he was one of the 20 officers who formed the early plans for the American Legion.

After the war he returned to Findlay and resumed his law practice. During the Harding administration he declined offers of the ambassadorship to Belgium and governorship to Panama and Alaska.

RECRUITED FORCE

From 1904 until 1912 Commander Cole served in the Ohio National Guard and held the rank of major in the second Ohio Infantry. At the outbreak of the World War he recruited the second Ohio to war strength and was commissioned a Lieut.-Colonel in the 37th division serving in France as a member of the general staff.

Col. Cole saw active service in France with his division and was cited by General Pershing. With this citation he wears the Order of the Purple Heart, a special decoration of the United States Government created by George Washington.

When he assumed the office of department commander, Col. Cole pledged himself to a program devoted to the proper care of the disabled veteran and the widows and orphans of fallen comrades together with unselfish service to community, state and nation.

ASK RESIGNATION

SPRINGFIELD, Oct 15 — Demand for the resignation of Congressman Charles Brand of Urbana, who bolted the Republican party this week, was made today by the Clark-co Republican central committee in resolutions adopted here.

Clark-co is a part of the seventh district which Brand has represented for 10 years.

Brand, in leaving the Republican organization, attacked President Hoover's farm policies.

CITY HOSPITAL ANNOUNCED ON APPROVED LIST

American College of Surgeons Discloses List at St. Louis Meet

OTHERS ARE NAMED

Surgical Death Rate in U. S. Is Lower

Circleville's Berger Municipal hospital is again placed on the list of approved Ohio hospitals. The complete list will be announced at the opening session of the fifteenth annual Standardization conference of the American College of Surgeons at St. Louis, Monday morning.

This annual list of approved hospitals has proven of great value to the patient when choosing a hospital, to the prospective student of nursing and the recently graduated physician.

More than 10,000 leading surgeons of the United States, Canada and other countries are listed in the organization.

OTHERS NAMED

Other hospitals in this vicinity which were approved by the College include, Chillicothe Veterans' Administration hospital, Mercy, General and Schirrman of Portsmouth; Childrens', Grant, Mt. Carmel, Mercy, St. Ann's infant asylum, St. Francis, Starling-Loving and White Cross of Columbus.

A list of the hospitals approved in this state is part of the entire list of 2,294 hospitals throughout the United States and Canada approved by the outstanding international surgical association. For 15 years this organization has been surveying hospitals through its Hospital Standardization movement in an attempt to improve those institutions in the best interests of the public.

It is a noteworthy fact that the 10,225 surgeons, the members of the American College of Surgeons, have undertaken the task of improving hospitals themselves, and have expended nearly one million dollars of their own money in order that the patient may be better served. Many can still remember when the death rate from surgical operations was 18 to 29 per cent. Today it is not more than 3 per cent in well-regulated hospitals and clinics. Since Hospital Standardization has been in effect the hospitalization period of a patient has been reduced from approximately 22 to 12 days.

Nearly nine million patients

Railroad Seeks To Cut Service

Norfolk & Western Would Reduce Passenger Trains Between Portsmouth and Columbus to Two Each Day; Low Revenue is Reason

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—The state utilities commission today fixed Nov. 16 for a public hearing relative to an application by the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. for authority to curtail its passenger train service between Columbus and Portsmouth, claiming that in recent years traffic has fallen off and that its revenue has constantly diminished until no profit now is derived from the service rendered by it, the company seeks permission to abandon operation of trains number 31 and 32.

Train No. 31 leaves Portsmouth at 7:30 a. m. arriving at Columbus at 10:20 a. m. Train No. 32 leaves Columbus at 6:15 p. m. arriving at Portsmouth at 9:10 p. m.

If these two trains are abandoned passenger service between Columbus and Portsmouth would be restricted to two trains, No. 35 which leaves Portsmouth at 2:55 p. m. arriving at Columbus at 5:25 p. m. and train No. 36 which leaves Columbus at 9:26 a. m. arriving at Portsmouth at 12:20 p. m.

Both trains would stop at all stations, the company said.

Voters Here To Be Given Three Ballots Nov. 8

Presidential, Judicial and Amendment Ballots to Be Marked in Ohio

6 PARTIES LISTED

County Campaign Begins to Be Warmer

With election drawing rapidly nearer—now less then a month away—interest here is increasing.

Candidates have been traveling over the county every day in an effort to line up votes and between now and election time enough gasoline and oil will have been used, and enough campaign cigars purchased to keep some gasoline stations and cigar stores in business until the next election.

Reports that at least one candidate has been waging a mud-slinging county-wide campaign have reached the ears of party leaders, and, although the person may himself benefit, it is a decided unethical manner in which to attack an opponent.

But that happens in every campaign so the person carrying on such methods is not a novelty.

GET 3 BALLOTS

Voters of Pickaway-co will receive three ballots when they enter voting booths in their various precincts—there are 38 of them in the county.

The tiniest ballot will be on an amendment to the State of Ohio constitution as to whether or not there shall be a convention to revise, alter or amend the constitution.

The next ballot to which more attention has been called this year than ever before is the non-partisan judicial ballot.

This ballot carries names of candidates for chief justice of the supreme court, judge of the supreme court, short term, and judge of the supreme court, long term,

JEALOUSLY BLAMED FOR INSANE ACT

WAUSEON, Oct. 15 — Insane jealously was blamed by officials here today for the act last night of William Leininger, 56, in shooting to death his wife who was suing him for divorce, killing her brother-in-law and then fatally wounding himself

The triple tragedy took place in the home of Mrs. Anna Wittie, Leininger's estranged wife, who has been using the name of her first husband.

Shadeville Residents Seek Sums

Claim Columbus Sewage Tossed Into Scioto River Cause Loss to Property and Cause Illness: $7,500 Sought.

Columbus was named defendant in two additional suits Friday filed by George W. Clark and Chase Miller of Shadeville, for alleged damages to them and their property caused by obnoxious odors from the Scioto river as a result of the city's dumping sewage into the stream.

Clark seeks $2,500 and Miller $5,000.

In their petitions the men claim that paint on their houses is turning black, furniture and draperies are covered with black, oily deposits, silverware becomes tarnished and food stuffs exposed to the air become spoiled.

Nearby residents are subject to headaches, sore throat, nausea, indigestion and other ailments as a result of the gasses.

Clark lives 700 feet east of the river and Miller 1000 feet.

THINK INSULL TO SURRENDER

Reliable Source Discloses Deposed Man To Await Until Election.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 15.—Samuel Insull, former Chicago power "czar," may return voluntarily to the United States to face his accusers.

From a reliable private source, International News Service learned the ex-millionaire, indicted for embezzlement and larceny is considering the possibility of returning to Chicago to answer the indictments after the Presidential and Cook-co elections.

This decision to delay definite action until after the elections, it was learned, has been promoted by Insull's conviction that the pressure now being applied to have him extradited is chiefly political

MAUPIN ON BOND

Chester Maupin 17, of Ashville, held with Lanson Chamberlain, 52 and Howard Chamberlain, also of the Harrison-twp village, on charges of blackmail of Francis "Cap" Hoover of Ashville, changed his plea of not guilty to guilty when arraigned before Judge E. A. Brown in juvenile court Saturday and sentence was withheld until a later date.

He furnished bond of $500 and was released from the county jail

Sentence will be deferred by Judge Brown until the cases of the Chamberlains have been disposed of, he said. Maupin will probably be used as a material witness in the cases.

Paul F Adkins, Maupin's attorney is expected to ask Judge Brown to put his client on probation.

SEVEN COAL THIEVES ARE PUT IN JAIL

Sheriff and Deputies Surprise Men at Dorney Tipple Friday

WERE WHOLESALERS

Railroad Company Men to File Charge

Seven local persons, including a minor, were being held in the county jail, Saturday, awaiting hearings on charges to be filed by the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. for coal thefts, following wholesale arrests by Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputies Armstrong and Fissell at Dorney coal tipple several miles south of town about midnight Friday:

The men held are:

Lonny Keaton, aged 20, 373 E. Corwin-st;

Hudson Keaton, aged 40, father of seven children, same address;

Bernard Delong, aged 32, Lover's Lane, father of three children;

John Smith, aged 28, 373 E. Corwin-st;

John Conrad, aged 40; father of nine children;

Charles Sterling, aged 29, 129 W. Corwin-st;

Virgil Keaton, aged 17, 373 E. Corwin-st.

"COMMERCIALIZING"

In making known the arrests, Sheriff Radcliff made plain the fact that the men were not arrested on petty thefts of coal but are alleged to have been "commercializing" in the business. The Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio Railway companies have made numerous reports to the police and sheriff's offices and have stated that their losses in coal thefts have been heavy during the past three months. Railroad officials and members of the sheriff's department have been investigating the cases for some time.

Late Friday Sheriff Radcliff and Deputies Armstrong and Fissell went to Dorney where a merchandise bound freight train had stopped. The seven men came in three automobiles.

CLIMBED ON CARS

Several climbed on top of the cars and threw off the coal and the others hurried it into the autos. The officers came out of ambush and surprised them, taking them on the spot.

It is the belief of officers that this practice has been going on for some time. "It is not our intention to go out and arrest every man who steals a little coal to keep his home and family warm, but in such cases as these, the railroad companies must be protected," one of the officials remarked.

Norfolk & Western authorities were to come to the city Saturday to file charges.

Interest Roused By Reports of Kaiser Plan

By International News Service

The suggestion that former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany might soon end his long exile at Doorn, Holland and return to his native land aroused widespread interest throughout Europe today.

Upon word from Doorn that the ex-Kaiser was "willing and ready" to return if the German people signified they wanted him. International News Service canvassed the governments of the former allied powers to determine how a monarchical restoration would be greeted by the nations of Europe.

The survey revealed that a restoration would place France in an "embarrassing position;" lead to heated protests by Poland and be accepted "disinterestedly" by Great Britain and Italy.

Mrs. Clarence Cooper of R. F. D. 6, was removed to her home Saturday from Berger hospital where she has been under observation.

DR. LLOYD JONNES TO HEAD SCHOOL

First Aid Classes For Scout Leaders To Begin Here Tuesday Eve.

Dr. Lloyd Jonnes will conduct the opening session of a training course in First Aid for Scout leaders at the Circleville Armory next Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

The course will be devoted to practical work and lectures on anatomy, bandaging, wounds, bleeding, artificial respiration, and methods of teaching First Aid.

At the opening meeting on Tuesday, the men will be organized into Patrols of five.

A large group is expected to participate in the course and any man over 18 years of age who is interested may enroll in the course for which there will be no charge.

Leaders will attend from New Holland and Ashville, as well as Circleville.

ASK RESIGNATION

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 15.— Demand for the resignation of Congressman Charles Brand of Urbana, who bolted the Republican party this week, was made today by the Clark-co Republican central committee in resolutions adopted here.

Clark-co is a part of the seventh district which Brand has represented for 10 years.

Brand, in leaving the Republican organization, attacked President Hoover's farm policies.

CITY HOSPITAL ANNOUNCED ON APPROVED LIST

American College of Surgeons Discloses List at St. Louis Meet

OTHERS ARE NAMED

Surgical Death Rate in U. S. Is Lower

Circleville's Berger Municipal hospital is again placed on the list of approved Ohio hospitals. The complete list will be announced at the opening session of the fifteenth annual Standardization conference of the American College of Surgeons at St. Louis, Monday morning.

This annual list of approved hospitals has proven of great value to the patient when choosing a hospital, to the prospective student of nursing and the recently graduated physician.

More than 10,000 leading surgeons of the United States, Canada and other countries are listed in the organization.

OTHERS NAMED

Other hospitals in this vicinity which were approved by the College include, Chillicothe Veterans' Administration hospital, Mercy, General and Schirrman of Portsmouth; Childrens', Grant, Mt. Carmel, Mercy, St. Ann's infant asylum, St. Francis, Starling-Loving and White Cross of Columbus.

A list of the hospitals approved in this state is part of the entire list of 2,294 hospitals throughout the United States and Canada approved by the outstanding international surgical association. For 15 years this organization has been surveying hospitals through its Hospital Standardization movement in an attempt to improve those institutions in the best interests of the public.

It is a noteworthy fact that the 10,225 surgeons, the members of the American College of Surgeons, have undertaken the task of improving hospitals themselves, and have expended nearly one million dollars of their own money in order that the patient may be better served. Many can still remember when the death rate from surgical operations was 18 to 29 per cent. Today it is not more than 3 per cent in well-regulated hospitals and clinics. Since Hospital Standardization has been in effect the hospitalization period of a patient has been reduced from approximately 22 to 12 days.

PARADE PICTURES WINNING PLAUDITS

A last chance to see moving pictures of the 29th annual Pumpkin Show, obtained last week by Sam Fox, manager of the Cliftona Theatre, particularly those of interesting close-ups of the Baby parade will be given tonight at the theatre.

The pictures have been showing at the theatre during the past two days and have met with wide approval. Shots of the high school bands, the crowds and other interesting scenes are shown. The close-ups of the Baby parade winners are excellent.

The feature picture, "Divorce in the Family," starring Jackie Cooper, Conrad Nagel and Lewis Stone is one of Paramount's best showings of the year.

Other Pumpkin Show pictures will be shown next week, according to Mr. Fox.

Preceding the service Mr. and Mrs. Toensmeier were dinner guests of the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Kilpatrick.

Railroad Seeks To Cut Service

Norfolk & Western Would Reduce Passenger Trains Between Portsmouth and Columbus to Two Each Day; Low Revenue is Reason

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—The state utilities commission today fixed Nov. 16 for a public hearing relative to an application by the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. for authority to curtail its passenger train service between Columbus and Portsmouth, claiming that in recent years traffic has fallen off and that its revenue has constantly diminished until no profit now is derived from the service rendered by it, the company seeks permission to abandon operation of trains number 31 and 32.

Train No. 31 leaves Portsmouth at 7:30 a. m. arriving at Columbus at 10:20 a. m. Train No. 32 leaves Columbus at 6:15 p. m. arriving at Portsmouth at 9:10 p. m.

If these two trains are abandoned passenger service between Columbus and Portsmouth would be restricted to two trains, No. 35 which leaves Portsmouth at 2:55 p. m. arriving at Columbus at 5:25 p. m. and train No. 36 which leaves Columbus at 9:26 a. m. arriving at Portsmouth at 12:20 p. m.

Both trains would stop at all stations, the company said.

Voters Here To Be Given Three Ballots Nov. 8

Presidential, Judicial and Amendment Ballots to Be Marked in Ohio

6 PARTIES LISTED

County Campaign Begins to Be Warmer

With election drawing rapidly nearer—now less then a month away—interest here is increasing.

Candidates have been traveling over the county every day in an effort to line up votes and between now and election time enough gasoline and oil will have been used, and enough campaign cigars purchased to keep some gasoline stations and cigar stores in business until the next election.

Reports that at least one candidate has been waging a mud-slinging county-wide campaign have reached the ears of party leaders, and, although the person may himself benefit, it is a decided unethical manner in which to attack an opponent.

But that happens in every campaign so the person carrying on such methods is not a novelty.

GET 3 BALLOTS

Voters of Pickaway-co will receive three ballots when they enter voting booths in their various precincts—there are 38 of them in the county.

The tiniest ballot will be on an amendment to the State of Ohio constitution as to whether or not there shall be a convention to revise, alter or amend the constitution.

The next ballot to which more attention has been called this year than ever before is the non-partisan judicial ballot.

This ballot carries names of candidates for chief justice of the supreme court, judge of the supreme court, short term, and judge of the supreme court, long term,

JEALOUSLY BLAMED FOR INSANE ACT

WAUSEON, Oct. 15.— Insane jealously was blamed by officials here today for the act last night of William Leininger, 56, in shooting to death his wife who was suing him for divorce, killing her brother-in-law and then fatally wounding himself.

The triple tragedy took place in the home of Mrs. Anna Wittie, Leininger's estranged wife, who has been using the name of her first husband.

SAMUEL INSULL SNAPPED IN ATHENS

Here is the first picture of Samuel Insull in Athens, taken as he left his hotel there with J. M. Hill of the American Express Co. The former Chicago millionaire has been under surveillance in the Greek capital, although released by police. The photo was rushed by plane to London, then by radio and telephone to Cleveland.

Shadeville Residents Seek Sums

Claim Columbus Sewage Tossed Into Scioto River Cause Loss to Property and Cause Illness: $7,500 Sought.

Columbus was named defendant in two additional suits Friday filed by George W. Clark and Chase Miller of Shadesville, for alleged damages to them and their property caused by obnoxious odors from the Scioto river as a result of the city's dumping sewage into the stream.

Clark seeks $2,500 and Miller $5,000.

In their petitions the men claim that paint on their houses is turning black, furniture and draperies are covered with black, oily deposits, silverware becomes tarnished and food stuffs exposed to the air become spoiled.

Nearby residents are subject to headaches, sore throat, nausea, indigestion and other ailments as a result of the gasses.

Clark lives 700 feet east of the river and Miller 1000 feet.

THINK INSULL TO SURRENDER

Reliable Source Discloses Deposed Man To Await Until Election.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 15.—Samuel Insull, former Chicago power "czar," may return voluntarily to the United States to face his accusers.

From a reliable private source, International News Service learned the ex-millionaire, indicted for embezzlement and larceny, is considering the possibility of returning to Chicago to answer the indictments after the Presidential and Cook-co elections.

This decision to delay definite action until after the elections, it was learned, has been promoted by Insull's conviction that the pressure now being applied to have him extradited is chiefly political.

MAUPIN ON BOND

Chester Maupin, 17, of Ashville, held with Lanson Chamberlain, 52, and Howard Chamberlain, also of the Harrison-twp village, on charges of blackmail of Francis "Cap" Hoover of Ashville, changed his plea of not guilty to guilty when arraigned before Judge E. A. Brown in juvenile court Saturday and sentence was withheld until a later date.

He furnished bond of $500 and was released from the county jail.

Sentence will be deferred by Judge Brown until the cases of the Chamberlains have been disposed of, he said. Maupin will probably be used as a material witness in the cases.

Paul E. Adkins, Maupin's attorney, is expected to ask Judge Brown to put his client on probation.

SEVEN COAL THIEVES ARE PUT IN JAIL

Sheriff and Deputies Surprise Men at Dorney Tipple Friday

WERE WHOLESALERS

Railroad Company Men to File Charge

Seven local persons, including a minor, were being held in the county jail, Saturday, awaiting hearings on charges to be filed by the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. for coal thefts, following wholesale arrests by Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputies Armstrong and Fissell at Dorney coal tipple several miles south of town about midnight Friday:

The men held are:

Lonny Keaton, aged 20, 373 E. Corwin-st;

Hudson Keaton, aged 40, father of seven children, same address;

Bernard Delong, aged 32, Lover's Lane, father of three children;

John Smith, aged 28, 373 E. Corwin-st;

John Conrad, aged 40; father of nine children;

Charles Sterling, aged 29, 129 W. Corwin-st;

Virgil Keaton, aged 17, 373 E. Corwin-st.

"COMMERCIALIZING"

In making known the arrests, Sheriff Radcliff made plain the fact that the men were not arrested on petty thefts of coal but are alleged to have been "commercializing" in the business. The Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio Railway companies have made numerous reports to the police and sheriff's offices and have stated that their losses in coal thefts have been heavy during the past three months. Railroad officials and members of the sheriff's department have been investigating the cases for some time.

Late Friday Sheriff Radcliff and Deputies Armstrong and Fissell went to Dorney where a northbound freight train had stopped. The seven men came in three automobiles.

CLIMBED ON CARS

Several climbed on top of the cars and threw off the coal and the others hurried it into the autos. The officers came out of ambush and surprised them, taking them on the spot.

It is the belief of officers that this practice has been going on for some time. "It is not our intention to go out and arrest every man who steals a little coal to keep his home and family warm, but in such cases as these, the railroad companies must be protected," one of the officials remarked.

Norfolk & Western authorities were to come to the city Saturday to file charges.

Interest Roused By Reports of Kaiser Plan

By International News Service

The suggestion that former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany might soon end his long exile at Doorn, Holland and return to his native land aroused widespread interest throughout Europe today.

Upon word from Doorn that the ex-Kaiser was "willing and ready" to return if the German people signified they wanted him. International News Service canvassed the governments of the former allied powers to determine how a monarchical restoration would be greeted by the nations of Europe.

The survey revealed that a restoration would place France in an "embarrassing position;" lead to heated protests by Poland and be accepted "disinterestedly" by Great Britain and Italy.

"WORLD LOOKING TO DEMOCRAT," TUNNEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President Hoover will be one of the worst defeated candidates in the history of the Republican party, according to Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion of the world, who was back today from a trip to Paris.

"The whole world is looking to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt," Tunney said on landing last night.

"The Hoover myth has completely exploded. The people have found out that he is not a miracle worker."

The Church Invites You

WHAT THE CHURCH OFFERS

The church offers to men a solution of the problem of sin; a thorough toning up of their inner lives; a method of expression for the very things that men desire to express; comfort and strength when trials come and sorrows weigh upon the heart; an enlargement of life's meaning; guidance in life's endeavors and an assurance of life's outcome. It offers a message of courage and hope; the gift of wisdom in time of perplexity the assurance of perfect peace; emancipation from ignorance through the truth which makes all men free and the power of eternal life.

In the face of such a presentation of the opportunities for personal spiritual enrichment and altruistic service, can one afford to absent himself from church? Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

It has been well said that a good life is not self-sustaining. The motives which impel us need refreshing, the soul within must be fed as well as the body. For real help we need go to the source. The Bible, the church are depositories of truth that have helped in one way or another the generations of the past. They have furnished us collectively with a heritage both of motive and ideals. They are sanctioned by wisdom and experince We are safe when we follow the collective experience of mankind. We are in danger when we set up our own standards or follow our own way.

We best contribute to the social welfare when we follow that which meets with well-nigh universal approval. Tomorrow the churches will spread a table—but to get help and strength we must appropriate. So go to church tomorrow. Take a friend.

HOME TRAINING IN NON-VIOLENCE

Gandhi, the World's champion in the art of conquering by moral force and non-violence can trace his ideals to home instruction. One instance is recorded concerning his mother's attitude toward a deadly scorpiom. It was early in the morning after she had taught her children their Hindu Sunday school lesson. His mother's feet were bare, with red painted soles. She followed the interesting Hindu custom of roughing them each morning after early devotions, in order to carry with her at her daily tasks, the pleasant odor and beauty of her prayers. As young Gandhi saw the deadly scorpion running straight toward those beautiful painted feet, he cried out in alarm.

"Mother! a scorpion! It will bite you! Kill it!

To which his mother responded quietly, "Be still, my son. If you do not frighten it, I shall not be hurt."

The mother watched the scorpion crawl up upon her heel and then, slowly disengaging the silk scarf from about her shoulders, she reacher down, picked up the scorpion and dropped it out of the window. "Now it will neither harm me, nor I it." she remarked softly.

What may be done to increase church attendance?

Roger Babson says, "A minister who sees his congregation dwindling may be quite sure it is due to one or more of these four reasons: (1) To sermons which are uninteresting, unintelligent and nonhelpful to the average man and women. (2). To the fact that those who attended his church are no more honest, kinder employers or employees than those who do not attend. (3). To a lack of spiritual influence in the home and school and the bad example as to "church going" set by certain people in the community. (4). To the feeling that the church does not render a service which is desired enough to support it.

This means that to increase church attendance a minister should systematically try to correct the above four handicaps. "The laymen can help correct the situation when they realize the necessity of showing their colors by church attendance regularly.

Despair is the conclusion of fools.

Cultivation is as necessary to the mind as truth to the body.

It is the rich heart that loves the poor heart only desires.

Lesson for October 16

THE HOME AND THE COMING GENERATION

Genesis 18:17-19; Deuteronomy 6: 4-9; I Samuel 1:24-28; Mark 10:13-16; II Timothy 1:5, 6

GOLDEN TEXT—Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it. Proverbs 22:6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Timothy's Home.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Honoring God in Our Homes.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Helping to Make Our Homes Better.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Home Ideals for Today and Tomorrow.

I. The Home Which Is to Be (Gen. 18:17-19).

The particular home in mind here is Abraham's. He was not only to become the head of a home, in the ordinary sense, but also the head of a nation through which particular blessings should come to the whole world.

1. Abraham to be the head of the home (v. 18). The husband is the head according to divine arrangement. How blessed it is when the lawful head of the home recognizes his responsibility, and in the fear of God seeks to discharge it.

2. Abraham's responsibility for instruction of his family (v. 19). God was about to destroy Sodom. The interests of humanity were at stake in the judgment upon this wicked city. It was God's purpose that Abraham should teach his descendants as to God's purpose through them. It is a father's solemn responsibility to teach his children the purpose and ways of God so that they may in turn take their place and become a blessing to the world.

II. God's Word, the Foundation of the Home (Deut. 6:4-9).

The home has a vital teaching function. The child develops slowly. It remains in the home for a long time, to give an opportunity to be taught the things of God. To teach God's Word to the children is a solemn obligation imposed upon parents.

1. The central truth to be taught (vv. 4, 5).

a. The unity of God (v. 4). This fundamental truth should be lodged in the mind of the child in its tender years.

b. Man's supreme obligation to God (v. 5). It is to love God supremely—heart, soul, and mind.

2. How the truth of God is to be kept alive (vv. 6-9).

a. It is to be diligently taught to the children (v. 7). This is a responsibility that dare not be delegated even to the Sunday school and church.

b. It should be talked of to the children everywhere and under all circumstances (v. 7). Impressions will thus be made upon the mind which cannot be effaced.

c. It is to be bound upon the hands and placed as frontlets between the eyes (v. 8).

2. It is to be written upon the posts of the house (v. 9).

III. Children Should Be Dedicated to the Lord (I Sam. 1:24-28).

The union of man and woman in holy marriage is for the propagation of the race. Parents have a solemn responsibility and should esteem it a great privilege to give their children to the Lord. The example of Hannah in giving Samuel to the Lord should encourage all parents to follow her example. According to her vow she took Samuel to the sanctuary and gave him over to the priest, to assist in the ministry in the Lord's house.

IV. Jesus' Attitude Toward Children (Mark 10:13-16).

1. Mothers desired that Jesus might touch their children (v. 13). Doubtless they had witnessed the healing power of his touch and coveted it for their children. All Christian parents want their children to come into contact with Jesus Christ.

2. The disciples' rebuke (v. 13). Thinking the children were too insignificant to engage Jesus' attention, they rebuked the mothers for bringing them to him.

3. Jesus' reply (v. 14). He declared that of such is the kingdom. Therefore, the children have a right in the presence of the King.

4. Jesus blessed the little children (v. 16). He took them up in his arms and blessed them. Christianity is peculiarly favorable to children.

The Godly Home (II Tim. 1:5, 6).

Timothy's wise and faithful mother and grandmother carefully nurtured him in God's Word. He knew the Scriptures from childhood through their training. His faith came to him not through laws of heredity but through the careful teaching of God's Word. The factors involved were godly ancestors, a Christian home, and diligent study of the Scriptures.

Some pastors are so busy running their church they have no time to take care of the sheep.

Half the duty of a Christian in this life consists in the exercise of passive graces.—Jeremy Taylor.

Professor Julius Richter of Germany states in The Missionary Review of the World that the Lutheran church in Germany has a membership of 40,000,000 the largest single Protestant church group. They have formed additionally an Evangelical church federation for the purpose of strengthening resistance to anti-religious currents such as atheism and communism.

Over 8000 children are enrolled in the Bible memory contest operated in four provinces in rural Western Canada. In one place the nearest church is 135 miles distant. Boys and girls who have memorized Scripture in the contests for two years are eligible for a Bible correspondence course of 52 lessons.

The city of Kirjath-sepher in Palestine, mentioned in the book of Joshua, has recently been unearthed by an expedition headed by Dr. Melvin Grove Kyle, archaeological editor of The Sunday School Times. The most interesting discoveries so far have been exquisite small vases in veined alabaster from the time of the patriarch Jacob; charred house beams that show the grain of oak wood; royal scarabs, on one of which is the inscription of the monarch to whom it belonged, "Lord o fthe two lands giving life forever;" a tiny chisel, needles and an ax head in bronze.

Book Review

The Bible cross word puzzle book by S. K. Davis, The W. A. Wilde Co., contains fifty puzzles based on Bible texts with diagrammed answers and Biblical references. The puzzles are not too difficult but enough so to be a real challenge and create a desire for further information regarding the Bible.

The Church Invites You

WHAT THE CHURCH OFFERS

The church offers to men a solution of the problem of sin; a thorough toning up of their inner lives; a method of expression for the very things that men desire to express; comfort and strength when trials come and sorrows weigh upon the heart; an enlargement of life's meaning; guidance in life's endeavors and an assurance of life's outcome. It offers a message of courage and hope; the gift of wisdom in time of perplexity the assurance of perfect peace; emancipation from ignorance through the truth which makes all men free and the power of eternal life.

In the face of such a presentation of the opportunities for personal spiritual enrichment and altruistic service, can one afford to absent himself from church? Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

It has been well said that a good life is not self-sustaining. The motives which impel us need refreshing, the soul within must be fed as well as the body. For real help we need go to the source. The Bible, the church are depositories of truth that have helped in one way or another the generations of the past. They have furnished us collectively with a heritage both of motive and ideals. They are sanctioned by wisdom and experince We are safe when we follow the collective experience of mankind. We are in danger when we set up our own standards or follow our own way.

We best contribute to the social welfare when we follow that which meets with well-nigh universal approval. Tomorrow the churches will spread a table—but to get help and strength we must appropriate. So go to church tomorrow. Take a friend.

HOME TRAINING IN NON-VIOLENCE

Gandhi, the World's champion in the art of conquering by moral force and non-violence can trace his ideals to home instruction. One instance is recorded concerning his mother's attitude toward a deadly scorpiom. It was early in the morning after she had taught her children their Hindu Sunday school lesson. His mother's feet were bare, with red painted soles. She followed the interesting Hindu custom of roughing them each morning after early devotions, in order to carry with her at her daily tasks, the pleasant odor and beauty of her prayers. As young Gandhi saw the deadly scorpion running straight toward those beautiful painted feet, he cried out in alarm.

"Mother! a scorpion! It will bite you! Kill it!

To which his mother responded quietly, "Be still, my son. If you do not frighten it, I shall not be hurt."

The mother watched the scorpion crawl up upon her heel and then, slowly disengaging the silk scarf from about her shoulders, she reacher down, picked up the scorpion and dropped it out of the window. "Now it will neither harm me, nor I it." she remarked softly.

What may be done to increase church attendance?

Roger Babson says, "A minister who sees his congregation dwindling may be quite sure it is due to one or more of these four reasons: (1) To sermons which are uninteresting, unintelligent and nonhelpful to the average man and women. (2). To the fact that those who attended his church are no more honest, kinder employers or employees than those who do not attend. (3). To a lack of spiritual influence in the home and school and the bad example as to "church going" set by certain people in the community. (4). To the feeling that the church does not render a service which is desired enough to support it.

This means that to increase church attendance a minister should systematically try to correct the above four handicaps. "The laymen can help correct the situation when they realize the necessity of showing their colors by church attendance regularly.

Despair is the conclusion of fools.

Cultivation is as necessary to the mind as truth to the body.

It is the rich heart that loves, the poor heart only desires.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

©, 1932, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for October 16

THE HOME AND THE COMING GENERATION

Genesis 18:17-19; Deuteronomy 6: 4-9; I Samuel 1:24-28; Mark 10:13-16; II Timothy 1:5, 6.

GOLDEN TEXT—Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it. Proverbs 22:6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Timothy's Home.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Honoring God in Our Homes.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Helping to Make Our Homes Better.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Home Ideals for Today and Tomorrow.

I. The Home Which Is to Be (Gen. 18:17-19).

The particular home in mind here is Abraham's. He was not only to become the head of a home, in the ordinary sense, but also the head of a nation through which particular blessings should come to the whole world.

1. Abraham to be the head of the home (v. 18). The husband is the head according to divine arrangement. How blessed it is when the lawful head of the home recognizes his responsibility, and in the fear of God seeks to discharge it.

2. Abraham's responsibility for instruction of his family (v. 19). God was about to destroy Sodom. The interests of humanity were at stake in the judgment upon this wicked city. It was God's purpose that Abraham should teach his descendants as to God's purpose through them. It is a father's solemn responsibility to teach his children the purpose and ways of God so that they may in turn take their place and become a blessing to the world.

II. God's Word, the Foundation of the Home (Deut. 6:4-9).

The home has a vital teaching function. The child develops slowly. It remains in the home for a long time, to give an opportunity to be taught the things of God. To teach God's Word to the children is a solemn obligation imposed upon parents.

1. The central truth to be taught (vv. 4, 5).

a. The unity of God (v. 4). This fundamental truth should be lodged in the mind of the child in its tender years.

b. Man's supreme obligation to God (v. 5). It is to love God supremely—heart, soul, and mind.

2. How the truth of God is to be kept alive (vv. 6-9).

a. It is to be diligently taught to the children (v. 7). This is a responsibility that dare not be delegated even to the Sunday school and church.

b. It should be talked of to the children everywhere and under all circumstances (v. 7). Impressions will thus be made upon the mind which cannot be effaced.

c. It is to be bound upon the hands and placed as frontlets between the eyes (v. 8).

2. It is to be written upon the posts of the house (v. 9).

III. Children Should Be Dedicated to the Lord (I Sam. 1:24-28).

The union of man and woman in holy marriage is for the propagation of the race. Parents have a solemn responsibility and should esteem it a great privilege to give their children to the Lord. The example of Hannah in giving Samuel to the Lord should encourage all parents to follow her example. According to her vow she took Samuel to the sanctuary and gave him over to the priest, to assist in the ministry in the Lord's house.

IV. Jesus' Attitude Toward Children (Mark 10:13-16).

1. Mothers desired that Jesus might touch their children (v. 13). Doubtless they had witnessed the healing power of his touch and coveted it for their children. All Christian parents want their children to come into contact with Jesus Christ.

2. The disciples' rebuke (v. 13). Thinking the children were too insignificant to engage Jesus' attention, they rebuked the mothers for bringing them to him.

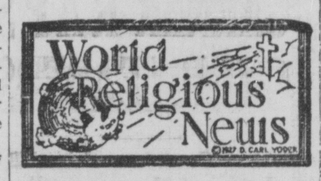
3. Jesus' reply (v. 14). He declared that of such is the kingdom. Therefore, the children have a right in the presence of the King.

4. Jesus blessed the little children (v. 16). He took them up in his arms and blessed them. Christianity is peculiarly favorable to children.

The Godly Home (II Tim. 1:5, 6). Timothy's wise and faithful mother and grandmother carefully nurtured him in God's Word. He knew the Scriptures from childhood through their training. His faith came to him not through laws of heredity but through the careful teaching of God's Word. The factors involved were godly ancestors, a Christian home, and diligent study of the Scriptures.

Some pastors are so busy running their church they have no time to take care of the sheep.

Half the duty of a Christian in this life consists in the exercise of passive graces.—Jeremy Taylor.



Charles H. Gabriel, author of more than 8000 hymns, many of them poular in all countries, died recently at his home in Los Angeles, at the age of 76. He was the author of many revival songs used in the Billy Sunday campaigns.

The Star Pro Juventute of the Catholic Boys Brigade has been awarded this year to President Hoover, His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Archbishop of New York and Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt. The decoration was founded by the National Board of Directors of the Catholic Boys Brigade of the United States to acknowledge outstanding merits in behalf of youth.

The fourteenth annual assembly of the association of women prechers of the United States was held recently in Chicago. The Rev. Mary Alice Lyons of Cleveland, O. is president of the association.

They have formed additionally an Evangelical church federation for the purpose of strengthening resistance to anti-religious currents such as atheism and communism.

Over 8000 children are enrolled in the Bible memory contest operated in four provinces in rural Western Canada. In one place the nearest church is 135 miles distant. Boys and girls who have memorized Scripture in the contests for two years are eligible for a Bible correspondence course of 52 lessons.

The city of Kirjath-sepher in Palestine, mentioned in the book of Joshua, has recently been unearthed by an expedition headed by Dr. Melvin Grove Kyle, archaelogical editor of The Sunday School Times. The most interesting discoveries so far have been exquisite small vases in veined alabaster from the time of the patriarch Jacob; charred house beams that show the grain of oak wood; royal scarabs, on one of which is the inscription of the monarch to whom it belonged, "Lord o fthe two lands giving life forever;" a tiny chisel, needles and an ax head in bronze.

Book Review

The Bible cross word puzzle book by S. K. Davis, The W. A. Wilde Co., contains fifty puzzles based on Bible texts with diagrammed answers and Biblical references. The puzzles are not too difficult but enough so to be a real challenge and create a desire for further information regarding the Bible.

Tigers Lose Heart-Breaker To Bexley, 7-

BOTH TEAMS SCORE IN FOURTH QUARTER

Passes Play Big Part in Game Both Teams Scoring That Way With Hegele Crossing Goalline for Tigers; Play of Rooney in Line Features Contest

Defeated in an exciting football game by a 7-6 score, Circleville Tigers should not feel down in the dumps today because the Bexley team they played against resembled a young college team in size

With four men in the line standing six feet tall and five of the weighing 185 pounds, and two of the four backs reaching the same height and avoirdupois Coach Carlton Smith of the E. Broad-st school put the finest looking football team on the field that has appeared here in years.

But—The Tigers weren't caring about size Friday afternoon. They outplayed the Bexley Lion in the first half largely through beautiful punting by Dean White and alertness of Bud Miller who covered two fumbles. Miller played the greater part of the game with his right elbow heavily bandaged.

THREATEN 3 TIMES

The Red and Black was inside Bexley's 20-yard line three times in the first half but the backs could go no where because Bexley linemen kept sifting through to smear the plays before they were started

Bexley played straight football in the first half trying only one pass and had that one not been so far over the receiver's head it would have been a score. The potential receiver was behind the entire Tiger secondary defense.

In the third period the Lion opened up its attack but after making several first downs was forced to kick.

The fourth period, when all the scoring was down, started with Bill Hegele downing White's punt on Bexley's 38-yard line. Bexley tried two plays making five yards then punted. White fumbled the kick on his 25-yard line but recovered it. Hill got two and again smashed for two before White kicked to Bexley's 46. Engle circled the Tiger's right and for seven yards before a pass was incomplete.

SALSICK IN GAME

At this stage of the game Beggs, quarterback, returned to the game for Bexley and Salsick, Bexley's strongest passing threat entered the game. A lateral then forward pass from Beggs to Salsick to Stark carried the ball around the Tiger's left end for a first down on the 28-yard stripe.

On the next play Salsick passed to Tudor over Speakman's head for the touchdown. No tackler placed a hand on the receiver. Salsick placed-kicked the extra point.

Speakman took the kickoff to the 41-yard mark before a Statue of Liberty play failed. Hill passed to White for a 25 yard gain but the Tiger signal-barker dropped the ball and it was recovered by Bexley. Bexley tried three plays into the line but failed to gain and Salsick kicked to White on Circleville's 39 yard line.

A pass, White to Hegele, gained 11 yards and first down. A lateral pass failed to gain and a pass was grounded. Circleville's backs were in motion on the next play then a pass again, White to Hegele, got 22 yards and a first down on the Bexley 31-yard stripe.

LONG HEAVE CONNECTS

Three consecutive passes were grounded, the Tigers taking five yards penalty on each of the last two then White again heaved the leather to Hegele who sidestepped the Bexley safety man and outraced Stark across the goalline.

With the extra point needed to tie the ball game, Wallace's pass from center was low and White was unable to handle it Bexley downing the ball.

Bexley received and tried three plays into the line before punting to White on the 40-yard line. The gun sounded before the Tigers could try a play.

Three Tiger linemen played probably the best football they ever played in this game. They were Rooney, Hegele and Wallace. The former was in practically every defensive play getting tackles on both sides of the line of scrimmage. Hegele's finest work was on the offense where he snagged passes out of the ozone that appeared impossible. Wallace's defensive play was nice to watch and, until late in the game when he became tired from playing a man who outweighed him 15 pounds, his passes to the backs were excellent.

Dean White and Gaines Hill again performed nicely in the backfield, White's punts especially aiding the Tiger cause. Hill took his usual battering carrying the ball on two out of every three plays. His defensive work was nice.

BAND PERFORMS

An excellent crowd watched the game and was entertained between halves by a performance by the high school band.

Lineup and summary:

50,000 Will See Michigan Battle

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—As far as these pop-eyed backers of the Buckeyes are concerned this tumble affair with Michigan this afternoon can't start any too soon.

On all sides the local residents are inclined to sneer at the Wolverines who have come to town showing quite a flash of cockiness because of their whittling of the Northwestern Wildcat last Saturday.

Ohio State figures that it was a pretty sweet chance to win. And the whole town seems to feel that same way. However, no one is underating the Wolverines because the members of the snooping department have reported that there is plenty of power in the Kipke brigade.

50,000 EXPECTED

Somewhere around 50,000 are assembling for the game and while this is a bit under the tournouts of other years, it is a mighty good crowd for the times.

The Michigan game here always has been regarded as the big show of the year.

The way things now stand between the teams Michigan is undefeated while Ohio was held to a tie last Saturday by a pretty good Indiana team.

The weather was most favorable. There's a bit of zip in the atmosphere but the going underfoot was hard. This should give the nimble backs of both teams a chance to do their stuff.

Ohio might be handicaped in a measure because of an injury to Captain Hinchman. The skipper was wounded last week and while he will see service he is not expected to be in the game for a long period. There's a young fellow named Keefe who will do most of the work in Hinchman's place.

Lines are powerful with Michigan begin conceded the edge. However, Ohio has plenty of material and it wouldn't surprise some of the experts if the Bucks played Kipke's crowd to a standstill.

The backfields on both sides are well set with material with Cramer and Carrol ready to hop for Ohio State and Harry Newman, the Michigan star, primed for one of his great games of the season.

Stumping Sport Stars Flavor Political Pot

Democrats and Republicans Bidding for Vote of Sporting World Through Popular Athletic Heroes. Gridiron Well Represented.

With the two major parties anxiously casting longing eyes in the direction of the huge sporting vote of America, the Presidential campaign looks like developing into a popularity contest, with the votes going to the candidate who is supported by the athletes with most popular appeal, or what is known in sportsdom as color. When Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion, took the stump for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, it was rumored that the G. O. P. tried to get Jack Dempsey, but apparently the old Manler believes in doing all his talking in shortband However, the entrance of Albie Booth, former Yale grid star, into the ring in support of the G. O P. is calculated to offset any gain Tunney may make. Then there is "Red" Cagle, former Army line-crasher, who is also willing to die for the dear old Elephant Booth and Cagle recently flew to the capital and assured President Hoover that if end runs or darts around eit tackle could win an election, he could settle down for another four years in the White House. Still more active in politics is another great gridiron figure. Tad Jones, former Yale coach, who recently received the Republican nomination for Congress, to succeed Representative Tilson of Connecticut. Then there is John Law, who was one of Knute Rockne's great ball-carriers at Notre Dame. John is campaigning as Democratic candidate for Assemblyman from the 5th Westchester County, N. Y., district. Between speeches he coaches the Sing Sing prison team. So with sport so closely associated with politics, we may yet see political conventions enlivened with cheering sections and acrobatic cheer leaders.

Tigers Lose Heart-Breaker To Bexley, 7-6

BOTH TEAMS SCORE IN FOURTH QUARTER

Passes Play Big Part in Game Both Teams Scoring That Way With Hegele Crossing Goalline for Tigers; Play of Rooney in Line Features Contest

Defeated in an exciting football game by a 7-6 score, Circleville Tigers should not feel down in the dumps today because the Bexley team they played against resembled a young college team in size.

With four men in the line standing six feet tall and five of the weighing 185 pounds, and two of the four backs reaching the same height and avoirdupois Coach Carlton Smith of the E. Broad-st school put the finest looking football team on the field that has appeared here in years.

But—The Tigers weren't caring about size Friday afternoon. They outplayed the Bexley Lion in the first half largely through beautiful punting by Dean White and alertness of Bud Miller who covered two fumbles. Miller played the greater part of the game with his right elbow heavily bandaged.

THREATEN 3 TIMES

The Red and Black was inside Bexley's 20-yard line three times in the first half but the backs could go no where because Bexley linemen kept sifting through to smear the plays before they were started.

Bexley played straight football in the first half trying only one pass and had that one not been so far over the receiver's head it would have been a score. The potential receiver was behind the entire Tiger secondary defense.

In the third period the Lion opened up its attack but after making several first downs was forced to kick.

The fourth period, when all the scoring was down, started with Bill Hegele downing White's punt on Bexley's 38-yard line. Bexley tried two plays making five yards then punted. White fumbled the kick on his 25-yard line but recovered it. Hill got two and again smashed for two before White kicked to Bexley's 46. Engle circled the Tiger's right and for seven yards before a pass was incomplete.

SALSICK IN GAME

At this stage of the game Beggs, quarterback, returned to the game for Bexley and Salsick, Bexley's strongest passing threat entered the game. A lateral then forward pass from Beggs to Salsick to Stark carried the ball around the Tiger's left end for a first down on the 28-yard stripe.

On the next play Salsick passed to Tudor over Speakman's head for the touchdown. No tackler placed a hand on the receiver. Salsick placed-kicked the extra point.

Speakman took the kickoff to the 41-yard mark before a Statue of Liberty play failed. Hill passed to White for a 25 yard gain but the Tiger signal-barker dropped the ball and it was recovered by Bexley. Bexley tried three plays into the line but failed to gain and Salsick kicked to White on Circleville's 39 yard line.

A pass, White to Hegele, gained 11 yards and first down. A lateral pass failed to gain and a pass was grounded. Circleville's backs were in motion on the next play then a pass again, White to Hegele, got 22 yards and a first down on the Bexley 31-yard stripe.

LONG HEAVE CONNECTS

Three consecutive passes were grounded, the Tigers taking five yards penalty on each of the last two then White again heaved the leather to Hegele who sidestepped the Bexley safety man and outraced Stark across the goalline.

With the extra point needed to tie the ball game, Wallace's pass from center was low and White was unable to handle it Bexley downing the ball.

Bexley received and tried three plays into the line before punting to White on the 40-yard line. The gun sounded before the Tigers could try a play.

Three Tiger linemen played probably the best football they ever played in this game. They were Rooney, Hegele and Wallace. The former was in practically every defensive play getting tackles on both sides of the line of scrimmage. Hegele's finest work was on the offense where he snagged passes out of the ozone that appeared impossible. Wallace's defensive play was nice to watch and, until late in the game when he became tired from playing a man who outweighed him 15 pounds, his passes to the backs were excellent.

Dean White and Gaines Hill again performed nicely in the backfield, White's punts especially aiding the Tiger cause. Hill took his usual battering carrying the ball on two out of every three plays. His defensive work was nice.

BAND PERFORMS

An excellent crowd watched the game and was entertained between halves by a the high school band.

Lineup and summary:

With the two major parties anxiously casting longing eyes in the direction of the huge sporting vote of America, the Presidential campaign looks like developing into a popularity contest, with the votes going to the candidate who is supported by the athletes with most popular appeal, or what is known in sportsdom as color. When Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion, took the stump for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, it was rumored that the G. O. P. tried to get Jack Dempsey, but apparently the old Mauler believes in doing all his talking in shorthand. However, the entrance of Albie Booth, former Yale grid star, into the ring in support of the G. O. P. is calculated to offset any gain Tunney may make. Then there is "Red" Cagle, former Army line-crasher, who is also willing to die for the dear old Elephant. Booth and Cagle recently flew to the capital and assured President Hoover that if end runs or darts around left tackle could win an election, he could settle down for another four years in the White House. Still more active in politics is another great gridiron figure, Tad Jones, former Yale coach, who recently received the Republican nomination for Congress, to succeed Representative Tilson of Connecticut. Then there is John Law, who was one of Knute Rockne's great ball-carriers at Notre Dame. John is campaigning as Democratic candidate for Assemblyman from the 5th Westchester County, N. Y., district. Between speeches he coaches the Sing Sing prison team. So with sport so closely associated with politics, we may yet see political conventions enlivened with cheering sections and acrobatic cheer leaders.

Ill-Mannered French

FRENCH manners by tradition have set the standard for the world. The French have a world-wide reputation for being the most polite and polished people in the world. But like so many traditions it is merely an empty tradition. Eminently deserved in the time of Louis IV, the reputation is notoriously undeserved by the present generation

Incidents that occured during the unveiling at Meaux of the monument given to France by American school children could never have happened in the United States Judging from the manner of the French crowd, politicians and police have improved little over those of the revolution.

Although France was receiving a gift from America, Ambassador Edge was neglected and ignored Why he was not a member of the official French party has not been explained, and why the police did not clear a passage for him until belatedly ordered to do so by President Lebrun cannot be explained. Uniformed boys corresponding to our Boy Scouts preempted seats on the speakers platform, compelling many invited guests, including the bishop, to stand. And when a speaker referred to Aristide Briand,, the audience hissed and yelled "salaud," which is good French for "scoundrel."

Such conduct may be amusing to the French but it is pure and unadulterated bad manners in any class of American society. Perhaps France has the reputation and America the manners.

Germany Cannot Pay

UNCLE Sam is an easy creditor. This has been proved many times since the war, the latest demonstration consisting of the new moratorium granted Germany on her obligations due this year, a mere trifle of $7,800,000.

There is no hint of cancellation or repudiation in this transaction. It is one of those "temporary adjustments" urged by the president upon congress last December and was provided for by the debt agreement. The payments to be snuspended are to be collected later with interest.

This adjustment sets no precedent in the war debts situation, but this continued evidence of Uncle Sam's disposition to bear lightly upon his creditors is likely to hearten others who could use a "temporary adjustment" at this time.

Prayers for more time from our former allies could be denied without partiality, since Germany's obligations were entirely on principal account and no agreement with the war debtors permits waiver of interest, which makes up the bulk of the other debtors' installments.

Germany is not denying her debt to the United States, nor does she in any way question its legitimacy. The only position she takes is that she is financially unable to pay now but will pay as soon as economic conditions permit. And Uncle Sam does the only thing he can do—wait.

Money Returns to Bank

SINCE July 29 time deposits in federal reserve banks have increased $90,000,000 and demand deposits have grown by $365,000,000 It is a phenomenon attributable to only one thing—renewed public confidence in the soundness of the banking system

This new public confidence originated with the creation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which definitely checked long continued withdrawal of funds from banks and put the brakes on the rate of bank mortality There followed a brief period of watchful waiting and then hoarded dollars began pouring back into bank vaults

Out of the greatly improved banking situation will ultimately come an expansion of credit for business and the bankers with Xmas coming every day What a near-sighted view to take! For every banker and railroad it has saved from going to the wall it has salvaged the savings of millions of wage-earners and small-salaried people and protected the slender capital of small business and professional men

Because government has served the few as an incident to the salvation of the many, is that any reason why it should desert the many that the few will not benefit?

"MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY"

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY

BY ANTHONY ABBOT

COPYRIGHT, 1931 BY COVICI-FRIEDE INC. DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

"DOUGHERTY!" remonstrated Thatcher Colt. "Could you wait to question Mr. Everett—"

"I'm sorry, Thatcher," rumbled Dougherty, his face a brick-red shade. "But the whole thing is getting clearer to me every second. Go ahead!"

Thatcher Colt was deliberately filling his pipe.

"I am sorry to take issue with you there, Dougherty. At this point, everything gets very dark to me. I do not know what happened All that I can safely say that I know is that Christine Quires was murdered. Somewhere in this apartment—which was not guarded at that time—an assassin was concealed. Now was the time. Christine was killed. It is impossible at this stage to attempt to visualize the scene.

"We have to guess here. But from other facts that we know, let us assume that we have the right to lay down a hypothesis. Then let us try to fill in the gaps and see if it all aids us.

"Let us begin by accepting the fact that someone had a deep and malicious reason for murdering Lola But that mysterious someone—probably among us here—played so deep a game that Lola was herself taken into the scheme. That is to say, the plotter told Lola that two of Lola's enemies should be killed, to avoid an exposé. Lola was not averse to any counsel, for her own safety; she was demonstrably a person of little scruple Lola was tempted to commit murder herself—and Lola told Baldwin to order the scorpions.

"Sheer guess-work, most of that But follow the notion and see where it leads us Suppose that Christine had overheard this bloodthirsty temptation? She is terrified She does not know whether to tell or not. She sends for her brother. She makes vague hints to Everett. She comes home She finds the killer here—and the accusation is out. In the argument that follows, the killer denies everything Christine's back is turned; the killer approaches with a box of death held high; the lid is opened and the scorpion springs upon the nearest victim The death bite was in Christine's ear.

"So much I have to guess at—but all that follows is based on factual evidence which buttresses the rest of the story to a most convincing degree.

"At least, the box was thrown out of the window. But in the magic mirror of reconstruction the scene of what followed is too faint. We cannot make out the features of the killer. But from this moment on, certain other facts become much clearer. A part of the secret is being given up to us, by virtue of the most common and ordinary virtues of everyday police work. By diligence and careful scrutiny we find definite indications. Mark you! When we found the body of Christine Quires, her clothes were soaking wet. Here was a clue which we could not overlook. There was no mistaking its importance. For some hours the dead body of Christine Quires had been exposed to last night's storm. Yet how was that possible? Remember that trained police operatives searched this apartment—and the terrace. Later we flooded the terrace with searchlights Yet we found not the slightest trace. If the body of Christine had been lying out on the terrace we would have found it during our first search But suppose even that we blundered and overlooked it. In our subsequent search we would have found in the sleet such traces of the body itself and the footsteps of those who dragged it there that we could not have overlooked them if we wanted to—especially with our blaze of searchlights. No such traces were there The body was not concealed in this apartment It was not on the terrace and it was not on the roof Now where was it?"

I found one window in Lola Carewe's room that told its own story.

Colt's tanned, eager face was flushed and eager as he stared from the white, attentive faces of Edgar Quires and his large wife, to Guy Everett, Mrs. Baldwin, and at last to the feline little Vincent Rowland.

"Where was the body all those hours?" repeated the Commissioner. It was as if he were working the case out logically in his mind, as if, indeed, his thoughts had been wired for sound.

"A very simple bit of detective work has made it possible to answer that question You will recall that certain strange marks were found on the throat of Christine Quires They were brutal markings. The medical examiner definitely established that there was a constriction of the throat muscles, sufficent to have caused death by strangulation.

"But death was not caused by strangulation. It was caused by the bite of the scorpion! The strangling of the throat had been done after death!

"Why should any murderer choke the throat of a body, once it is dead? It is a waste of time, if nothing else.

"You will further recall the finding of a strap of leather, which under microscopic examination disclosed tiny particles of human skin There then remained no further doubt in my mind that the neck of the dead girl had been encircled with a strap, tightly buckled Why

"There could be but one answer to that awful question

"The body was to be suspended in some position where it could not be seen!

"Logically and inevitably then came the question—where was the body put up, to hang by its neck?

"The clue lay in the condition of the body It was soaking wet It had been hanging out in the storm Not on the terrace; not on the roof—yet still out in the storm Where could the hiding-place be?

"When I found a hair of Christine, wet, on the floor of a room where she did not belong, the answer forced itself upon my mind It was a horrible and ghastly answer—but inevitable

"The body must have been hanging from one of the windows that open upon a sheer drop of twenty-three stories to the street.

"Once this solution was clear, confirmation was easy One had only to look at the windows that did not open on the terrace I found one window in Lola Carewe's room that told its own story There was a support there for a flag pole, and through that the strap had been thrust and buckled There were strands of wet hair from Christine's head caught in the iron stanchion, like that I had found on the floor.

"That much of the mystery was at least sufficiently clear.

The Daily Horoscope

Saturday, Oct. 15, 1932

Benefic aspects are seen for today and the Astrologers agree that considerable improvement is to be shown in which finance, social and inspirational matters are involved. Any undertaking should prove to be permanent, constant and continuously successful if begun today.

The early morning hours are not propitious for letters, signing, of contracts, short journeys, or other minor business affairs Anxiety worry and restlessness will interfere with the judgment, and we are told by the seers that mental calmness and self control are needed at this time

From another direction of the planets there is indicated success through speculation ,shipping, and transportation by water Some financial disturbance will be much discussed because of the mis-application of money by people of wealth.

This is read as a favorable day for boating, swimming shipping, dealing in food stuffs liquids canned goods, delicacies and things calculated to please the taste of the public

Club programs now come under a fortunate sway and there should be much gain through catering to the public's tastes and necessities through confectioneries bakeries, restaurants hotels, boarding houses, etc.

Regarding world's depression some Astrologers predict its gradual ending is to begin to take place after November 20th of this year This change is especially favorable to the laboring classes Many lines including realestate may require two years or more to fully recover their normal conditions. A number of industries already have indicated evidence of recovery

A child born on this day probably will have many opportunities in life for the acquiring of property and personal possessions

Freeman B Dowd (Author: Sage) was born on this date 1825 Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche, German philosopher 1844. Frederic William V, of Prussia, 1571. Asaph Hall, 1829. American Astronomer.

Sunday, Oct. 16, 1932

Fairly good angles of the planets are observed by the Astrologers today and the seers advise us to use this time for constructive thinking and self-improvement.

There should be a deep interest in subjects of reform and much consideration for the more idealistic side of life is to be shown on this day

This day brings with one of the very best planetary influences and is favorable for early church attendance

Regarding worlds depression some Astrologers predict its ending began March and gradually after November 20th, of this year [illegible] especially favorable to the laboring class It is claimed by [illegible] wave of the depression ended February 24, of this year, and immediately following the ending of this wave, bank failures were practically ended for a number of weeks, many thousands of school teachers were paid back salaries, the American Legion gave over six hundred thousand men and women temporary employment The second wave of the depression ended August 11th with many things happening on this day For example, 150,000 miners and 5,000 steel workers were called to work wheat reached its highest point since last March and the President made his famous speech On November 29 we are to observe the gradual ending of the third and last wave of the world's great crisis

It may require many months for certain types of people and industries to properly recover from the financial ruin of the last three years This is especially true of the real estate business

A child born on this day probably will be easy going and not as practical as he should be, however he will possess great talent and magnetism

Noah Webster, American lexicographer and journalist was born on this date 1758 Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include William Pitt Fessenden 1806 secretar and treasurer G O'Neill American dramatist 1888

Danger No Longer Seen In Mastoid Operation

Acute Inflammation in the Mastoid Bone Now Removed with Minimum of Risk, but If Neglected Pus May Spread to the Brain and Cause Serious Results.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

MASTOID disease is one of the most feared ailments of the human family, particularly of childhood Parents dread the disease because they fear the operation which may become necessary.

Dr. Copeland

Acute mastoiditis is an acute inflammation found within the mastoid bone that forms the bony prominence easily felt behind the ear Within this bone is the mastoid antrum and perhaps a multitude of smaller cells or spaces, communicating with the middle ear.

The middle ear is connected with the nose through the Eustachian tube, and the prevalence of this disease has been attributed to the negligence of common colds and other infections of the nose and throat.

Inflammation of the mastoid is caused by an infection that usually travels from the nose or throat through the Eustachian tube It is commonly seen after influenza, pneumonia and other infectious diseases and it may follow a severe infection of the tonsils or adenoids.

The attack comes on suddenly, but as a rule it is preceded by a severe earache The earache usually occurs four or five days before the mastoid becomes involved Within a few days there is a discharge from the ear and the pain disappears, but the pain returns when the discharge from the ear suddenly stops. It is then that the [illegible]

The afflicted person is restless, complains of great pain behind the ear and runs a high fever If examined carefully, a swelling is noticed behind the ear. Though this sign is characteristic of acute mastoiditis it may not always be present. The skin over the mastoid bone is red and painful when pressed

In very young children it is often difficult to diagnose mastoiditis This is unfortunate, for delay in certain cases is dangerous. In doubtful cases X-ray pictures of the mastoid bone should be made. They are of value but are not always definite, for mastoiditis may be present even though X-ray pictures show nothing abnormal. It is advisable that the ear be carefully examined and, where possible, that culture studies be made of the pus taken from the canal

Serious If Neglected

When a child runs a continuous high fever with a profuse discharge from the ear, pain in the ear, loss of appetite and restlessness. [illegible] ould toiditis should be suspected, physician should be called at [illegible] of and the necessary tests should made.

If operation is advised it should not be feared The operation has been so perfected that it is done now with the minimum of risk. Mastoiditis is a serious disease only when neglected.

The mastoid is separated from the brain by a very thin layer of bone. Pus in the mastoid bone therefore is a serious menace, for it may travel to the brain. When the operation is performed, the brain is protected because the pus is drained away from the infected mastoid

Ill-Mannered French

FRENCH manners by tradition have set the standard for the world. The French have a world-wide reputation for being the most polite and polished people in the world. Uniformed boys corresponding to our Boy Scouts preempted seats on the speakers platform, compelling many invited guests, including the bishop, to stand. And when a speaker referred to Aristide Briand,, the audience hissed and yelled "salaud," which is good French for "scoundrel."

Such conduct may be amusing to the French but it is pure and unadulterated bad manners in any class of American society. Perhaps France has the reputation and America the manners.

Germany Cannot Pay

UNCLE Sam is an easy creditor. This has been proved many times since the war, the latest demonstration consisting of the new moratorium granted Germany on her obligations due this year, a mere trifle of $7,800,000.

There is no hint of cancellation or repudiation in this transaction. It is one of those "temporary adjustments" urged by the president upon congress last December and was provided for by the debt agreement. The payments to be snuspended are to be collected later with interest.

This adjustment sets no precedent in the war debts situation, but this continued evidence of Uncle Sam's disposition to bear lightly upon his creditors is likely to hearten others who could use a "temporary adjustment" at this time.

Prayers for more time from our former allies could be denied without partiality, since Germany's obligations were entirely on principal account and no agreement with the war debtors permits waiver of interest, which makes up the bulk of the other debtors' installments.

Germany is not denying her debt to the United States, nor does she in any way question its legitimacy. The only position she takes is that she is financially unable to pay now but will pay as soon as economic conditions permit. And Uncle Sam does the only thing he can do—wait.

Money Returns to Bank

SINCE July 20 time deposits in federal reserve banks have increased $90,000,000 and demand deposits have grown by $365,000,000. It is a phenomenon attributable to only one thing—renowed public confidence in the soundness of the banking system.

This new public confidence originated with the creation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which definitely checked long continued withdrawal of funds from banks and put the brakes on the rate of bank mortality. There followed a brief period of watchful waiting and then hoarded dollars began pouring back into bank vaults.

Out of the greatly improved banking situation will ultimately come an expansion of credit for business and the bankers with Xmas coming every day. What a near-sighted view to take! For every banker and railroad it has saved from going to the wall it has salvaged the savings of millions of wage-earners and small-salaried poeple and protected the slender capital of small business and professional men.

Because government has served the few as an incident to the salvation of the many, is that any reason why it should desert the many that the few will not benefit?

"MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY"

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY

BY ANTHONY ABBOT

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY COVICI-FRIEDE INC., DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

"DOUGHERTY!" remonstrated Thatcher Colt. "Could you wait to question Mr. Everett—"

"I'm sorry, Thatcher," rumbled Dougherty, his face a brick-red shade. "But the whole thing is getting clearer to me every second. Go ahead!"

Thatcher Colt was deliberately filling his pipe.

"I am sorry to take issue with you there, Dougherty. At this point, everything gets very dark to me. I do not know what happened. All that I can safely say that I know is that Christine Quires was murdered. Somewhere in this apartment—which was not guarded at that time—an assassin was concealed. Now was the time. Christine was killed. It is impossible at this stage to attempt to visualize the scene.

"We have to guess here. But from other facts that we know, let us assume that we have the right to lay down a hypothesis. Then let us try to fill in the gaps and see if it all aids us.

"Let us begin by accepting the fact that someone had a deep and malicious reason for murdering Lola. But that mysterious someone—probably among us here—played so deep a game that Lola was herself taken into the scheme. That is to say, the plotter told Lola that two of Lola's enemies should be killed, to avoid an exposé. Lola was not averse to any counsel, for her own safety; she was demonstrably a person of little scruple. Lola was tempted to commit murder herself—and Lola told Baldwin to order the scorpions.

"Sheer guess-work, most of that. But follow the notion and see where it leads us. Suppose that Christine had overheard this bloodthirsty temptation? She is terrified. She does not know whether to tell or not. She sends for her brother. She makes vague hints to Everett. She comes home. She finds the killer here—and the accusation is out. In the argument that follows, the killer denies everything. Christine's back is turned; the killer approaches with a box of death held high; the lid is opened and the scorpion springs upon the nearest victim. The death bite was in Christine's ear.

"So much I have to guess at—but all that follows is based on factual evidence which buttresses the rest of the story to a most convincing degree.

"At least, the box was thrown out of the window. But in the magic mirror of reconstruction the scene of what followed is too faint. We cannot make out the features of the killer. But from this moment on, certain other facts become much clearer. A part of the secret is being given up to us, by virtue of the most common and ordinary virtues of everyday police work. By diligence and careful scrutiny we find definite indications. Mark you! When we found the body of Christine Quires, her clothes were soaking wet. Here was a clue which we could not overlook. There was no mistaking its importance. For some hours the dead body of Christine Quires had been exposed to last night's storm. Yet how was that possible? Remember that trained police operatives searched this apartment—and the terrace. Later we flooded the terrace with searchlights. Yet we found not the slightest trace. If the body of Christine had been lying out on the terrace we would have found it during our first search. But suppose even that we blundered and overlooked it. In our subsequent search we would have found in the sleet such traces of the body itself and the footsteps of those who dragged it there that we could not have overlooked them if we wanted to—especially with our blaze of searchlights. No such traces were there. The body was not concealed in this apartment. It was not on the terrace and it was not on the roof. Now where was it?"

I found one window in Lola Carewe's room that told its own story.

Colt's tanned, eager face was flushed and eager as he stared from the white, attentive faces of Edgar Quires and his large wife, to Guy Everett, Mrs. Baldwin, and at last to the feline little Vincent Rowland.

"Where was the body all those hours?" repeated the Commissioner. It was as if he were working the case out logically in his mind; as if, indeed, his thoughts had been wired for sound.

"A very simple bit of detective work has made it possible to answer that question. You will recall that certain strange marks were found on the throat of Christine Quires. They were brutal markings. The medical examiner definitely established that there was a constriction of the throat muscles, sufficent to have caused death by strangulation.

"But death was not caused by strangulation. It was caused by the bite of the scorpion! The strangling of the throat had been done after death!

"Why should any murderer choke the throat of a body, once it is dead? It is a waste of time, if nothing else.

"You will further recall the finding of a strap of leather, which under microscopic examination disclosed tiny particles of human skin. There then remained no further doubt in my mind that the neck of the dead girl had been encircled with a strap, tightly buckled. Why?

"There could be but one answer to that awful question.

"The body was to be suspended in some position where it could not be seen!

"Logically and inevitably then came the question—where was the body put up, to hang by its neck?

"The clue lay in the condition of the body. It was soaking wet. It had been hanging out in the storm. Not on the terrace; not on the roof—yet still out in the storm. Where could the hiding-place be?

"When I found a hair of Christine, wet, on the floor of a room where she did not belong, the answer forced itself upon my mind. It was a horrible and ghastly answer—but inevitable.

"The body must have been hanging from one of the windows that open upon a sheer drop of twenty-three stories to the street.

"Once this solution was clear, confirmation was easy. One had only to look at the windows that did not open on the terrace. I found one window in Lola Carewe's room that told its own story. There was a support there for a flag pole, and through that the strap had been thrust and buckled. There were strands of wet hair from Christine's head caught in the iron stanchion, like that I had found on the floor.

"That much of the mystery was at least sufficiently clear.

The Daily Horoscope

Saturday, Oct. 15, 1932

Benefic aspects are seen for today and the Astrologers agree that considerable improvement is to be shown in which finance, social and inspirational matters are involved. Any undertaking should prove to be permanent, constant and continouously successful if begun today.

The early morning hours are not propitious for letters, signing, of contracts, short journeys, or other minor business affairs. Anxiety, worry and restlessness will interfere with the judgment, and we are told by the seers that mental calmness and self control are needed at this time.

From another direction of the planets there is indicated success through speculation ,shipping, and transportation by water. Some financial disturbance will be much discussed because of the mis-application of money by people of wealth.

This is read as a favorable day for boating, swimming shipping, dealing in food stuffs, liquids, canned goods, delicacies and things calculated to please the taste of the public.

Club programs now come under a fortunate sway and there should be much gain through catering to the public's tastes and necessities through confectioneries, bakeries, restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, etc.

Regarding world's depression, some Astrologers predict its gradual ending is to begin to take place after November 20th, of this year. This change is especially favorable to the laboring classes. Many lines, including realestate, may require two years or more to fully recover their normal conditions. A number of industries already have indicated evidence of recovery.

A child born on this day probably will have many opportunities in life for the acquiring of property and personal possessions.

Freeman B. Dowd (Author-Sage) was born on this date, 1828 Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche, German philosopher, 1844; Frederic William V, of Prussia, 1574; Asaph Hall, 1829, American Astronomer.

Sunday, Oct. 16, 1932

Fairly good angles of the planets are observed by the Astrologers today and the seers advise us to use this time for constructive thinking and self-improvement.

There should be a deep interest in subjects of reform and much consideration for the more idealistic side of life is to be shown on this day.

This day beings with one of the very best planetary influences and is favorable for early church attendance.

Regarding world's depression, some Astrologers predict its ending to begin slowly and gradually after November 20th, of this year, being especially favorable to the laboring classes. It is commonly understood by many of the seers that depression come and go in a wave like cycle, for example, the first wave of the depression ended February 24, of this year, and immediately following the ending of this wave, bank failures were practically ended for a number of weeks; many thousands of school teachers were paid back salaries; the American Legion gave over six hundred thousand men and women temporary employment. The second wave of the depression ended August 11th, with many things happening on this day. For example, 150,000 miners and 5,000 steel workers were called to work; wheat reached its highest point since last March, and the President made his famous speech. On November 20, we are to observe the gradual ending of the third and last wave of the world's great crisis.

It may require many months for certain types of people and industries to properly recover from the financial strain of the ast three years. This is especially true of the real estate business.

A child born on this day probably will be easy going and not as practical as he should be; however, he will possess great talent and magnetism.

Noah Webster, American lexicographer and journalist was born on this date, 1758. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include William Pitt Fessenden, 1806; secretary and treasurer G. O'Neill, American dramatist, 1888.

That advertising speeds up success.

Truthful advertising is nourishment that the people can easily digest, and will pay any business concern that uses it persistently.

Competition is keener today than it has been in years and this makes it necessary for business concerns to pay greater attention to the work that advertising does.

Truthful, persistent advertising compels attention and always creates favorable impressions. It aids sales with its convenience, economy and effectiveness.

Advertising is vital to the success of every business. Persistent advertising indicates quality and value and creates confidence in the minds of the buying public.

Quality goods well advertised sell and keep on selling.

Advertising builds business and, by increasing volume, cuts down overhead—nothing strange about that. It is being done everywhere.

For high quality at sane prices, advertised goods are best.

Maybe they are called grass widows because grass makes hay.

Danger No Longer Seen In Mastoid Operation

Acute Inflammation in the Mastoid Bone Now Removed with Minimum of Risk, but If Neglected, Pus May Spread to the Brain and Cause Serious Results.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

MASTOID disease is one of the most feared ailments of the human family, particularly of childhood. Parents dread the disease because they fear the operation which may become necessary.

Acute mastoiditis is an acute inflammation found within the mastoid bone that forms the bony prominence easily felt behind the ear. Within this bone is the mastoid antrum and perhaps a multitude of smaller cells or spaces, communicating with the middle ear.

The middle ear is connected with the nose through the Eustachian tube, and the prevalence of this disease has been attributed to the negligence of common colds and other infections of the nose and throat.

Inflammation of the mastoid is caused by an infection that usually travels from the nose or throat through the Eustachian tube. It is commonly seen after influenza, pneumonia and other infectious diseases and it may follow a severe infection of the tonsils or adenoids.

The attack comes on suddenly, but as a rule it is preceded by a severe earache. The earache usually occurs four or five days before the mastoid becomes involved. Within a few days there is a discharge from the ear and the pain disappears, but the pain returns when the discharge from the ear suddenly stops. It is then that the

The afflicted person is restless, complains of great pain behind the ear and runs a high fever. If examined carefully, a swelling is noticed behind the ear. Though this sign is characteristic of acute mastoiditis, it may not always be present. The skin over the mastoid bone is red and painful when pressed.

In very young children it is often difficult to diagnose mastoiditis. This is unfortunate, for delay in certain cases is dangerous. In doubtful cases X-ray pictures of the mastoid bone should be made. They are of value but are not always definite, for mastoiditis may bepresent even though X-ray pictures show nothing abnormal. It is advisable that the ear be carefully examined and, where possible, that culture studies be made of the pus taken from the canal.

Serious If Neglected

When a child runs a continuous high fever with a profuse discharge from the ear, pain in the ear, loss of appetite and restlessness, mastoiditis should be suspected and physician should be called at once and the necessary tests should be made.

If operation is advised it should not be feared. The operation has been so perfected that it is done now with the minimum of risk. Mastoiditis is a serious disease only when neglected.

The mastoid is separated from the brain by a very thin layer of bone. Pus in the mastoid bone therefore is a serious menace, for it may travel to the brain. When the operation is performed, the brain is protected, because the pus is drained away from the infected mastoid.

MOVIES

AT THE CLIFTONA

Mexico's Olympic team got to the games in Los Angeles this summer partly by courtesy of Marlene Dietrich.

The star of "Blonde Venus," at the Cliftona Sunday and Monday, has been in Mexico only one day in her life—that day to see the races at Tia Juana—but she helped send the Mexican athletes to the Olympiad anyhow.

To raise money to send the team to the games, the American-Mexican Olympic Committee held a money-raising contest, with costumes worn by Miss Dietrich and 13 other Paramount stars, among them Maurice Chevalier, the Four Marx Brothers, Tallulah Bankhead and Sylvia Sidney as the prizes.

An evening gown worn by Miss Dietrich in one sequence of "Blonde Venus" was the first prize for women contestants.

"Blonde Venus" is the story of a woman who accepts the attentions of another man to save her husband's life, and then discovers herself in love with him. The complications that ensue when her husband discovers her unfaithfulness leads to a dramatic climax.

PLAN NEW HIGHWAY

SANTA FE, N. M.—An all-weather highway from Santa Fe to Mexico City by way of Juarez was recently discussed by Gov. Arthur Seligman of New Mexico and Luis G. Lupian, Mexican counsul in Juarez. The new highway would extend through Torreon and Monterey to the Mexican capital.

JAPS TO PROBE MANCHURIA

MUKDEN, Manchuria—The resources of Manchuria are to be thoroughly investigated by a Japanese military commission, which will undertake the work under the auspices of the Japanese army.

More Than Five Millions To Be Distributed Needy

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—Distribution of more than $5,000,000 of federal relief funds among needy and destitute families in various cities and rural districts in Ohio before the end of this year is anticipated by members of the state relief commission.

This relief money will be in addition to the millions provided for through the issuance of bonds and diversion of gasoline tax funds by the various cities, counties and other local political subdivisions throughout the state, under the provisions of relief legislation enacted by the Ohio legislature last spring.

Application for the federal relief funds will be made by Governor George White who will distribute them in accord with provisions embraced in one of the emergency relief acts passed during the special legislative session last month.

STURDY APPLICATIONS

Between now and New Year's Day, the governor will probably take favorable action upon applications which Mahoning and Stark counties, Youngstown and other communities will submit for allotments of poor relief funds from the federal reconstruction finance corporation.

Prior to the enactment of this emergency act, the governor, acting upon the recommendations of the state relief commission, Major to the R. F. C. for an allotment of $2,337,000 to the city of Cleveland and $250,000 to Akron. The corporation approved the request for Cleveland. The Akron request is still pending before the corporation.

The distinction of submitting the first application under the new emergency act falls to the city of Toledo which has applied for $12,000 from the R. F. C. With the approval both of the governor and the sate relief commission, Major Ellis O. Braught, executive secretary of the commission, is expected to forward the Toledo application to the R. F. C immediately.

The new emergency act authorizes the governor to apply to the reconstruction finance corporation "on behalf of the state" for funds to be used in "furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardship resulting from unemployment."

REDUCE "LOANS"

Provision is made for the deduction of these "loans" from "future regular apportionments federal authorizations (monies) in aid of the state of Ohio for the construction of highways and post roads."

Acting through the state relief commission, the governor is empowered to require that all applications made by the various political subdivisions for "loans" from the R. F. C. shall be submitted to, and approved by, the state relief commission, under such uniform regulations as the commission may prescribe.

County commissioners, on behalf of a county, or the legislative authority, on behalf of a city, is given authority, to apply, by resolution, to the governor, through the state relief commission, for an R. F. C. "loan." The resolution must show that all other means of providing direct, or work, relief for the poor and unemployed in such subdivision have been exhausted.

Any R. F. C. "loan" must be placed in the treasury of the local subdivision to the credit of the emergency relief fund and be spent only in accordance with a budget approved, or revised, by the governor, with the advice of the state relief commission.

All officers of the subdivision responsible for the administration, or disbursement, of these funds, along with their official bondsmen, shall be held accountable for any violation of the law or other "Wrongful use" of the monies.

RENDER REPORTS

These local officials must render reports to the state relief commission relative to the expenditure of the money. The reports must be submitted at such times, and in such form, as the commission may decree.

CITY HOSPITAL

were cared for in approved hospitals last year. Therefore, the saving in time amounted to 90,000,000 days, and approximately 450,000 more lives were saved than under conditions which existed previous to Hospital Standardization for the death rate in approved hospitals has dropped from 80 patients treated to 30 in the past 15 years.

It is interesting to note that the first survey of the College made in 1918 revealed only 89 institutions in the United States and Canada worthy of approval. The approved list for 1932 shows that after 15 years of Hospital Standardization there are today more than 25 times as many hospitals adequately prepared to meet the needs of the public.

Hospitals are desirous of being approved by the American College of Surgeons for it stamps them as being public service institutions of prestige and esteem, progressive and efficient. Since the College unreservedly condemns and forbids the practice of fee-splitting among doctors, approved hospitals attract the most competent and ethical members of the medical profession. The quack has no place in the approved hospital. The public is protected.

At one time hospitalization was feared. A patient approached a hospital with reluctance and fear of death. But today the situation is entirely changed. Through the untiring efforts of the American college of Surgeons hospitals have become increasingly scientific, more keenly interested in saving every human life possible. Today a patient can enter an approved hospital with confidence that he will be served with a maximum of efficiency and safety, that he will be saved time and money, and what is more important, many years of life.

For its leadership in the advancement of science, for its role in lengthening human life, in rendering it safer, happier, and more secure, the American College of Surgeons is deserving of unlimited praise and gratitude.

business reliance on Republican leadership."

Himself, Garner characterized as "a plain business man representative of a conservative community."

"I want to see our budget balanced by careful economy," he asserted after stating the only element needed for restoration of the depressed financial and credit situation was confidence in the country's credit structure.

"The moment that is done, money will flow here from all the world and from all Democratic hoards, seeking safety and employment, and then we shall move back into God's sunlight much faster than any of us dream."

He laid at the door of the Hoover administration responsibility for the "collapse" of the farm relief program, failure to balance the budget because of its attitude toward Congress, and neglect to adopt relief measures until forced to do so under Democratic pressure.

SEE QUICK TRIAL

LIMA, Oct. 15.— Rising public sentiment today demanded a quick trial for Loren Truesdale, 23, who was indicted for first degree murder yesterday in the cruel quarry slaying of his brother, Earl Truesdale, 20, and the latter's girl companion, Miss Thelma Woods, 18.

Jealously of his brother's winning ways with girls inspired the double murder, according to Allen-co officials. The indictments charge Loren Truesdale with brutally murdering the youth and girl on Memorial Day, 1931, and throwing their bodies into an abandoned stone quarry.

HARRIETT ROSS, AGED 84, IS TAKEN

Native of This County Dies At Home of Daughter East of Stoutsville.

Mrs. Harriett Elizabeth Ross, aged 84, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cora D. Marshall on the Fairfield-Pickaway-co line Saturday at 3:30 a. m. of complications after a six weeks' illness.

She was the widow of Talmadge Ross whom she married at Dutch Hollow Oct. 8, 1870.

Mrs. Ross was born in Pickaway-co July 6, 1848, a daughter of Eliza and Hannah Etherington Brown.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Noah Riegel of Cedar Hill, a sister, five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Monday at 2 p. m. at the Marshall residence with burial in Amandatwp by E. M. Crites.

HARRY DAUGHERTY WILL AGAIN WRITE

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—Temporarily aloof from all politics, former Attorney General Harry A. Daugherty is nevertheless to be heard from again.

The Ohio lawyer who soared to fame as political manager for the late President Harding, and crashed to oblivion when President Coolidge asked for his resignation, is itching to get revenge in print.

"The Inside of the Harding Tragedy," which he published in book form early this year, is to be followed with a series of magazine articles which he is now writing.

"These articles," according to Daugherty, "are just to remind some people of some things they may have forgotten." And there was a threatening note in his announcement.

It is expected that he will again go into the past history of Washington politicians, referring to the activities of certain members of the so-called "Ohio Gang."

HOOVER ON WAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 — President Hoover left the capital today to campaign through two states—Pennsylvania and Ohio — which are vital to Republican success in the November election.

Both are normally and heavily Republican. The record books do not disclose when Pennsylvania ever went Democratic in a presidential year. Ohio has strayed from the Republican fold only twice in half a century, in 1912 and 1916, neither of which was a normal year. Yet this year every straw vote and newspaper poll has indicated a political revolt that will put both states in the Democratic column.

Tonight, in Cleveland, Mr. Hoover will make his second major speech of the campaign.

He laid at the door of the Hoover administration responsibility for the "collapse" of the farm relief program, failure to balance the budget because of its attitude toward Congress, and neglect to adopt relief measures until forced to do so under Democratic pressure.

were cared for in approved hospitals last year. Therefore, the saving in time amounted to 90,000,000 days, and approximately 450,000 more lives were saved than under conditions which existed previous to Hospital Standardization for the death rate in approved hospitals has dropped from 80 patients treated to 30 in the past 15 years.

It is interesting to note that the first survey of the College made in 1918 revealed only 89 institutions in the United States and Canada worthy of approval. The approved list for 1932 shows that after 15 years of Hospital Standardization there are today more than 25 times as many hospitals adequately prepared to meet the needs of the public.

Hospitals are desirous of being approved by the American College of Surgeons for it stamps them as being public service institutions of prestige and esteem, progressive and efficient. Since the College unreservedly condemns and forbids the practice of fee-splitting among doctors, approved hospitals attract the most competent and ethical members of the medical profession. The quack has no place in the approved hospital. The public is protected.

At one time hospitalization was feared. A patient approached a hospital with reluctance and fear of death. But today the situation is entirely changed. Through the untiring efforts of the American college of Surgeons hospitals have become increasingly scientific, more keenly interested in saving every human life possible. Today a patient can enter an approved hospital with confidence that he will be served with a maximum of efficiency and safety, that he will be saved time and money, and what is more important, many years of life.

For its leadership in the advancement of science, for its role in lengthening human life, in rendering it safer, happier, and more secure, the American College of Surgeons is deserving of unlimited praise and gratitude.

HARRIETT ROSS, AGED 84, IS TAKEN

Native of This County Dies At Home of Daughter East of Stoutsville.

Mrs. Harriett Elizabeth Ross, aged 84, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cora D. Marshall on the Fairfield-Pickaway-co line Saturday at 3:30 a. m. of complications after a six weeks' illness.

She was the widow of Talmadge Ross whom she married at Dutch Hollow Oct. 8, 1870.

Mrs. Ross was born in Pickaway-co July 6, 1848, a daughter of Eliza and Hannah Etherington Brown.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Noah Riegel of Cedar Hill, a sister, five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

HARRY DAUGHERTY WILL AGAIN WRITE

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—Temporarily aloof from all politics, former Attorney General Harry A. Daugherty is nevertheless to be heard from again.

The Ohio lawyer who soared to fame as political manager for the late President Harding, and crashed to oblivion when President Coolidge asked for his resignation, is itching to get revenge in print.

"The Inside of the Harding Tragedy," which he published in book form early this year, is to be followed with a series of magazine articles which he is now writing.

"These articles," according to Daugherty, "are just to remind some people of some things they may have forgotten." And there was a threatening note in his announcement.

It is expected that he will again go into the past history of Washington politicians, referring to the activities of certain members of the so-called "Ohio Gang."

HOOVER ON WAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Hoover left the capital today to campaign through two states—Pennsylvania and Ohio — which are vital to Republican success in the November election.

Both are normally and heavily Republican. The record books do not disclose when Pennsylvania ever went Democratic in a presidential year. Ohio has strayed from the Republican fold only twice in half a century, in 1912 and 1916, neither of which was a normal year. Yet this year every straw vote and newspaper poll has indicated a political revolt that will put both states in the Democratic column.

Tonight, in Cleveland, Mr. Hoover will make his second major speech of the campaign.

GIRL RESERVES WILL INITIATE

Thirty-one girls, including former members of the Junior Girl Reserves, were present at the first meeting for the year of the senior group which was devoted to the discussion of details for future meetings and initiation of new members.

Junior who formerly were members of the junior club were transferred into the senior group at this meeting.

It was decided to hold the regular business meeting on Thursday noon of each week. The time of social meetings could not be decided.

It was also planned that each cabinet representative of the pep, program and service groups should appoint a member of the club to take charge of the plans for a week.

Initiation of new members is to take place next Thursday evening. The number to be initiated is determined by the number of graduating seniors in the club this year. As there are 19 present seniors, 10 will be initiated this semester and the remaining 9 during the second semester. Initiation committee is composed of Alice Cummings, Margaret Buskirk, Helen Colville, and Polly Briggs.

Myrtle Good, Margaret Long, Eleanor Young, Theda Bowsher and Elizabeth Hilyard are on the refreshments committee.

Uniforms of the Girls Reserves includes a dark skirt and a white shirt or middie.

Misses Velma Watson and Elma Rains are advisors. Avanell Haecker is president.

Principal Topics

Perseverance in others is admired by all and we strive to persevere in all we undertake. We resolve to preserve in a task as we begin it but often falter before we finish it.

Resolutions are made at the beginning of the school year that we will prepare our lessons adequately each day that we may do better work than the previous year. We are apt to fail in our good resolutions about this time of the year unless we renew our intentions frequently.

We need to persevere in our study that we may obtain the desired results. We are in school to learn that we may become useful and valuable citizens. This is the formative period of our lives. Form good habits.

Accident—Suicide?

A difference of opinion between the Medical Examiner and detectives exists over the death of William Haskell 3rd, son of Major General William Haskell, Adjutant-General of the New York State Militia. Young Haskell was found in his New York apartment with a bullet in his brain. The Medical Examiner said the case was one of suicide, while detectives who investigated the tragedy insist that the shooting was an accident, the gun having apparently been discharged while Haskell was cleaning it.

Held as Kidnapers

WASHINGTON-TWP SCHOOL NOTES

The Parent-Teacher association meeting last Tuesday evening was well attended in spite of the bad weather. The 4-H Club had charge of the program. It was decided by the executive club to have a masquerade carnival at the school house on October 21st. Big plans are being made for the party and much interest is being shown. After the meeting a delicious lunch of doughnuts, coffee, pumpkin pie and sandwiches was served.

The fololwing Washington-twp. boys exhibited pigs in the market class at the Pumpkin Show: Bernard and Maynard Matz, Lewis Hitler and Thomas Riechelderfer. Bernard and Maynard Matz, each took first prize and Lewis Hitler received second prize.

Mrs. Gamer's high school sewing class is finishing their first projected which is a braided rug. Mrs. Gamer and two of the girls, Edith Valentine and Sophia Peters enterer theirs in the Art Department at the Pumpkin Show. Mrs. Gamer received a blue ribbon or first prize and Edith and Sophia each received third prize with a white ribbon.

Mrs. Bowman, president of the Parent-Teacher Asosciation has named the following chairmen for our carnival on the night of Oct. 21th. Mrs. C. D. Bennett will be in charge of our doll exhibit. Mr Boyer will be at the head of a bingo stand. Mrs. Ruth Marion will have a fish pond. Miss Kuhn has been asked to see that every one gets their fortune told. Mrs. Loring List will be in charge of the eats: sandwiches, pumpkin pie, candy, weiners, ice cream, coffee, cider. All at atiractive prices Mr. Straight will have a real shooting gallery. Mrs Charlotte Gamer is in charge of the program. Mrs. Mary Valentine will be in charge of the masquerade. There will be an exhibit of freaks to be seen at the cost of one penny. Rewards are to be given for the oldest, prettiest and most unique dolls. Rewards will be given for the prettiest, ughest and most comical masks There will be plenty of good, wholesome fun, and it is hoped that a large crowd will attend.

In the weekly spelling contest between the freshmen and sophmores Olive Hartley was successfull in spelling down both classes.

Through an accident last week Ellen Brown freshman, received two bad cuts on two fingers. She was taken to the doctor in Circleville where they were dressed. Her fingers have been very sore but will soon be alright again.

The 4-H Club was nicely represented at their exhibit during the Pumpkin Show. Aleda Sayre, Kathryn Kraft and Bertha Doering entered summer clothing Kathryn received first prize, Bertna second and Almeda third. The following girls entered useful articles: Evelyn Kraft, Fayetta Sayre, Margaret List, Elizabeth Good, Hazel Matz, and Betty Leist. Evelyn, Margaret, and Hazel received second prize and Fayetta, Elizabeth and Betty third prize. The Club has been under the direction of Mrs. Grace Leist and Mrs. Pearl Kraft. Much good has been done through the club and too much praise cannot be given to these two good leaders.

Our boys are going after the scalp of Salt Creek's baseball team Friday afternoon. If Amos Valentine can make as many of the boys bite the dust by the strike out route as he did at the Monroe game, victory is assured.

There are a great many secret meetings going on at the school house and in the community. We think that it has to do with the carnival, which is to take place at the school building on the night of Oct. 21. We want all our friends to meet at the school house that night. We think that the original fortune teller and the witch that was hung at Salem will be there. If you hear any queer sounds in the air they are, probably caused by the broom riding witches

Morris Clark, sophomore, has been absent this week because of illness

Mrs Gamer's freshmen English class has just finished reading the Gold Bug Since thi was a treasure hunt Mrs. Gamer decided to have a treasure hunt also The freshmen were given cryptographs using symbols like those used in the Gold Bug to work out. These cryptographs were buried in different places over the school ground and then the real hunt for the treasure started As this goes to print Howard Marshall and Mary Clark are leading and are close to the treasure

Gretchen McDaniels in the 3rd grade was given the first prize in the pet parade at the Pumpkin Show.

Philip Reichelderfer in the 4th grade received third prize for his chickens at the Pumpkin Show

The 4th grade had a perfect attendance for the month of September.

BAD NEWS FOR GIRLS

KANSAS CITY, Mo.— Milady soon may be faced with the compulsion of giving her right age if she intends to vote in Missouri elections. The Kansas City election board is urging revison of the state election laws to make it mandatory for every prospective vote when registering to give his —or her— right age instead of taking refuge by smilingly giving it as "over 21" as now is permitted.

GIRL RESERVES WILL INITIATE

Thirty-one girls, including former members of the Junior Girl Reserves, were present at the first meeting for the year of the senior group which was devoted to the discussion of details for future meetings and initiation of new members.

Junior who formerly were members of the junior club were transferred into the senior group at this meeting.

It was decided to hold the regular business meeting on Thursday noon of each week. The time of social meetings could not be decided.

It was also planned that each cabinet representative of the pep, program and service groups should appoint a member of the club to take charge of the plans for a week.

Initiation of new members is to take place next Thursday evening. The number to be initiated is determined by the number of graduating seniors in the club this year. As there are 19 present seniors, 10 will be initiated this semester and the remaining 9 during the second semester. Initiation committee is composed of Alice Cummings, Margaret Buskirk, Helen Colville, and Polly Briggs.

Myrtle Good, Margaret Long, Eleanor Young, Theda Bowsher and Elizabeth Hilyard are on the refreshments committee.

Uniforms of the Girls Reserves includes a dark skirt and a white shirt or middie.

Misses Velma Watson and Elma Rains are advisors. Avanell Haecker is president.

P. S. Herberholz, occupations fifth period 35 girls; and occupations seventh period, 33 boys.

All the above classes are freshman classes.

WHO IS IT ?

She is an attractive senior girl
Her hair is perfect in it's curl
The boy she goes with is called Bill
She likes him now and always will.

Tis said she buys her shoes in pairs
To Girl Reserves she takes her cares
You know she dresses to a tee,
Has more than either you or me.

Principal Topics

Perseverance in others is admired by all and we strive to persevere in all we undertake. We resolve to preserve in a task as we begin it but often falter before we finish it.

Resolutions are made at the beginning of the school year that we will prepare our lessons adequately each day that we may do better work than the previous year. We are apt to fail in our good resolutions about this time of the year unless we renew our intentions trequently.

We need to persevere in our study that we may obtain the desired results. We are in school to learn that we may become useful and valuable citizens. This is the formative period of our lives. Form good habits.

Accident—Suicide?

A difference of opinion between the Medical Examiner and detectives exists over the death of William Haskell, 3rd, son of Major General William Haskell, Adjutant-General of the New York State Militia. Young Haskell was found in his New York apartment with a bullet in his brain. The Medical Examiner said the case was one of suicide, while detectives who investigated the tragedy insist that the shooting was an accident, the gun having apparently been discharged while Haskell was cleaning it.

Held as Kidnapers

BAD NEWS FOR GIRLS

KANSAS CITY, Mo.— Milady soon may be faced with the compulsion of giving her right age if she intends to vote in Missouri elections. The Kansas City election board is urging revision of the state election laws to make it mandatory for every prospective note when registering to give his —or her— right age instead of taking refuge by smilingly giving it as "over 21" as now is permitted.
